

Another NHS Answer

One answer, looking at everyone's different opinions, would be All people/patients Clearly/Obviously given the option of addressing their GP, Psychologist, Psychiatrist etc by using JUST their 'Name', or, only if preferred, the title 'Doctor'.

And with letters, emails and on TV it always put as 'Name (Doctor)'

Something for the NHS, and Worldwide Health Services, to consider going through with, to at least give some people/patients the opportunity to have many health problems a lot 'LESS' stuck on their mind.
