

Commended Entry Certificate

awarded to

Paul Wilkins

for the song

Lord God and His Son

This is to certify that "Lord God and His Son" was a Commended Entry in the Lyrics category in the UK Songwriting Contest 2010. This song was carefully examined by expert music industry judges and they have awarded Paul Wilkins this certificate for participating in the contest in 2010 and for contributing to its continued success as one of the world's leading international songwriting events.

The UK Songwriting Contest was formed in association with The BRIT Trust and other major music industry organisations. It is held annually with support from some of the biggest names in the UK and international music communities.
