

Sainsbury's is 150 Years Old

- 1) Sainsbury's to be given lots of cheers
Has now been around for 150 years
Which without any hesitation
In May 2019 is being given lots of celebration

- 2) Like she'd never done before
To mark this occasion the Queen visited a Sainsbury historic store
And she deeply did enjoy this day
Attended by a host of nominated Sainsbury colleagues from across the UK

- 3) The Queen was then shown around
By a Chairman, Chief Executive, with Lord and Lady Sainsbury to be found
Looking at how Sainsbury's had developed gradually
Now even with self-checkouts to be used by you and me

- 4) Sainsbury's has a history of supporting the local community yes
Charity fundraising and events for colleagues or so I guess
To try and fulfil lots of peoples dreams
It's also supported youth groups, elder care homes and occasionally sports teams

- 5) This week to Sainsbury's in the UK
Everyone will be saying 'hip hip hurray'
And by bringing to the public a smile
They'll probably continue shopping there for oh quite a while
