

Archie Harrison Mountbatten-Windsor's Birth

- 1) Bringing to the Royal Family lots of joy
The Duchess of Sussex today had a baby boy
At 5.26am the birth of this 7lb 3oz child took place
Which brought a big smile to Prince Harry's face

- 2) Lots of people took to the streets to join the Royal Family in celebration
Showing plenty of rejoice with no hesitation
This was the first child of The Duke and Duchess of Sussex yes
And is the seventh in line to the throne or so I guess

- 3) Harry and Meghan will now to Christen this baby
Need to come up with a nice popular name maybe
Then they decide to give him 'Archie Harrison Mountbatten-Windsor' as his name
To be used quite cheerfully time and time again

- 4) To the Queen and Prince Philip this is a special day
With people worldwide saying 'hip hip hurray'
Following them all having a great happy gathering this afternoon
Everybody in the Royal Family is completely over the moon

- 5) This Master's Baptism will be the next special occasion
A fact of which we'll need no persuasion
And lots of the population with a big smile on their face
Will watch this Royal Church Service thankfully taking place
