

Laurel And Hardy

- 1) Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in 1927 took to the stage
Often giving each other a rage
Laurel played a clumsy feller yes
Whilst Hardy was quite a bully or so I guess
- 2) As a complete matter of fact
They did plenty a comedy act
At first in silent black and whites on TV
For lots of people to regularly see
- 3) With Laurel in films causing trouble no lie
Often Hardy was giving an angry sigh
Together getting dafter and dafter
As giving to everyone the medicine of laughter
- 4) Though struggling to fully get along
They later appeared with many a witty song
Making all the newspaper front pages
Laurel and Hardy went to lots of different theatre stages
- 5) On 'This Is Your Life' Ralph Edwards was to be a friend
When in late 1955 their acting partnership came to an end
Then in Cumbria, England, memories of them got put on display
For Laurel and Hardy to be remembered through on each and every day
