

The Life Of Sir Billy Boston

- 1) Sir Billy Boston was born, in Cardiff, South Wales on the 6th August 1934
To become a high standard great rugby player like never seen before
He was to score 571 tries in his rugby career yes
Making him second-highest try scorer or so I guess
- 2) Boston spent 15 years appearing for Wigan
Playing in both the wing and centre position
Then at Blackpool Borough he finished his rugby league career
To by lots of his long-term supporters be given a big retirement cheer
- 3) Boston was married to Joan for 70 years-time
With everything between them going quite fine
And for a short while they had a nice daughter
Who, until suffering cancer, was to do all that she ought ta
- 4) Boston, internationally, was to play for Great Britain for a while Until, in 1960, helping them win the Rugby League World Cup with a smile
Then, later in life, he was to be deeply applaud
When he picked up both an 'MBE' and 'Knighthood' award
- 5) Boston also had a few different 'Hall of Fame' rugby talent awards
Which everyone appreciated with a round of applause
Then sadly on the 24th August 2026, aged 92, he did die
Though will be remembered forever no lie
